Saving Water

Last night, while Tony was having a bath, he said, 'The water is cool. It is fantastic.' He really enjoyed having a nice long bath and playing with water.

After the bath, Tony watched TV in the living room. His mum shouted, 'Tony, you forgot to turn off the tap in the bathroom!' However, Tony was too excited watching a football match on TV that he did not answer his mother.

This morning, while Tony was waiting for the lift in the lobby, he saw a notice which said 'No water!' He thought, 'Why did I not turn off the tap? Why did I play with the water? I wasted too much water. It is no good.'

Tony felt sorry for being naughty. He decided to save water and never ever to waste water again.

Yesterday, while Tony was taking a bath, he wasted a lot of water by just playing with it. He did not want to have a quick bath because he enjoyed playing with water.

After an hour's bath, Tony went to the living room. His father said, 'Tony, you forgot to turn off the tap in the bathroom.' However, Tony did not answer his father.

This morning, while Tony was in the lift lobby on the ground floor, he saw a notice saying 'No water supply for a week!'

In the afternoon, Tony really wanted to take a bath at home, but there was no water. He was so regretful that he had wasted so much water when he had a bath yesterday. He decided not to play with water again and to always remember to turn off the tap.
