

Saving Water

4A Wong Yu Hung, Harry

Last Sunday, while Tony was taking a bath, he said, 'I love playing with water.' When he finished taking his bath, he forgot to turn off the tap. Therefore, he wasted a lot of water.

'You are wasting a lot of water!' shouted Tony's mum while she was turning off the tap. Tony did not seem to care about his mum's words.

The next day, when Tony came back from school, he saw a notice saying that there was going to be water rationing for two days and that it would start from tomorrow.

Tony finally understood why he should not waste water because he may not have water if he wastes it every day. From that day on, he never wastes water again.

An Amazing Day

Last year, I had a Christmas party at home. I invited my friends, Anson, Mary, Tommy, Andy and Jack to join the party.

When they arrived, I asked them to help me decorate my home. We put some lights on the Christmas tree and hung some ornaments around the house. Then, we prepared some food for the party, such as potato chips, oranges, chicken wings and jelly. My dad used some recycled dinnerware to serve the food.

After eating, we played many games such as role-play, hide-and-seek, telephone games and gun games.

Then, we started to show our talents. Andy played the piano. He played wonderfully. Jason played the guitar. He played stylishly. Mary performed a dance and Tommy played the drums. I played guzheng. It was a wonderful show.

It was an amazing day.
