One day, Marco had a race with his friends nearby a river. Marco won the race but his shoe fell into the deep river. An old man was fishing when the shoe fell in. The old man was hoping to catch some fish, but he caught an old dirty shoe instead. The old man looked at Marco and asked, 'Is this yours?'

'That is not mine,' Marco said. Marco felt hopeless, but an idea suddenly popped in his head. He remembered that his friend was very good at swimming. So, his friend went into the river and got Marco's shoe back. Marco was very thankful.

Yesterday was Christmas Day. I went to Disneyland with my family. The first thing I did was to play a wonderful game. I also went on a lot of rides. After going on the rides, I went to a restaurant to have dinner. The restaurant was big and attractive. I was very happy because I could eat my favourite food. I was very excited too because I went to my favourite place in Hong Kong!
