

An Eating Flower

4E Cheung Chun Hin, Issac

Sam, Ben, and Ken were plant scientists. They went to Mars. They found an eating flower. They were excited. Sam said, 'We need to observe this flower carefully.'

Then, they brought the flower back to the lab on Earth. They looked at the flower. The flower was unhappy. Ben said, 'Flower, be happy.'

At night, the scientists went to see if the flower was all right. They could not see the flower. Ken said, 'Where is the flower?'

Finally, the plant scientists found the flower outside the lab, and it grew into a giant flower because it ate all the books in the lab.

A Visit to the Home for the Aged

4E Kong Wing Tung, Micca

Last Sunday, my friends and I went to the Home for the Aged. We went there by bus. When we arrived there, we saw so many helpless old people. Tom fed one old man. I talked to an old woman. I asked, 'Are you cold?'

The old woman said, 'Yes, I am.'

Then I gave her a blanket. After lunch, we wanted to give the old woman a scarf, but I could not find it in the big paper bag. I asked, 'Where is the scarf?'

May said, 'The scarf is gone.'

Tom said unhappily, 'What can we do?'

I said, 'Let's look for the scarf together!'

We looked everywhere for the scarf, but we could not find it, so we made one more. When we finished knitting the scarf, we gave it to the old woman. She was happy.
