Sunny

Yesterday, my sister and I went to my aunt's house. We played a game first. I kept losing so I was very disappointed. With my sister's encouragement, I won the game finally.

After that, the relatives gave us Christmas gifts. I received some snacks and my sister received a diagonal shoulder bag. We liked them very much.

Finally, we ate hotpot together. There were a lot of delicious foods. After the hotpot, we went home. That was the happiest day in my life.
