

Mother's Day

10 May 20XX (Sun)

Today is Mother's Day. Dad and I planned a day of celebration for Mum. I decided to make breakfast for Mum since she always cooks for us. My mum always makes a complicated breakfast. Due to the little experience I had in cooking, I only made fried eggs, ham and toast for her. She said that it was the most delicious breakfast she had ever eaten.

After breakfast, Dad took out three tickets and announced that we would watch a magic show. I was surprised when the magician took a rabbit out of his hat! The magic show was amazing and we clapped a lot.

The Peak Tram was the next destination we went to. The view while going up was fantastic. The harbour view and the tall skyscrapers were fascinating. Up on the Peak, Mum went shopping at the mall and we had lunch whilst looking at the dazzling view. The whole family was delighted.

Lastly, we went home since we had had a tiring day. Dad and I gave Mum a surprise! We gave her a cake while she was watching TV. 'Thank you for your hard work!' we said.

What a wonderful day! Thank you, Mum!

A Happy Trip

6A Ng Yee Sum, Jayee

Last Sunday was a cloudy day. I went to a very special place with my family. We went to Sai Kung. We were very excited.

First, we bought ferry tickets to go to an island. When we arrived, we bought dim sum from the snacks stall. The food was tasty! Then, we walked on the beach. The air was fresh and I felt very comfortable. I picked some sea shells that looked stunning. Some of them even had holes in the shells. They were beautiful but they were smaller than what I expected.

After that, we took some pretty photos while we were walking on the rocks. I almost fell! It was so exciting! Then, we went back to Sai Kung by ferry.

It was such a fun experience to go to an island, I was very grateful. I hope I can go to another island in Sai Kung again in the future.

Chinese New Year

6A Scarlet Chen

Today marked the beginning of the most important celebration in our culture, Chinese New Year. We had our cousins over. I felt a rush of happiness as I received a few red pockets from my relatives, a token of their love and blessings.

It was nice to reconnect with family members I hadn't seen for a while. There were so many delicious dishes, such as fish for abundance, chicken for happiness and sweet rice balls for family togetherness.

In the afternoon, we decided to explore the neighbourhoods, enjoying the beautiful decorations and street performances. The lion dance was fun to watch. As the performers danced through the streets, the crowd erupted in cheers, tossing lucky money to the lions. It was a wonderful day!

As I close this diary, I realize that every moment of this holiday is filled with love, joy and a deep connection to my roots. I love Chinese New Year!

Diary

Yesterday was my birthday. I went to an amusement park with my friends. We went to a ghost house. We were scared. When we were walking through the woods, we saw a lot of bats flying around the trees.

After a while, we were in front of the ghost house. Many spider webs were hanging around. We were shocked. Suddenly, we heard a horrible scream. At that time, a cold sweat formed on our bodies.

After we got into a better mood, we slowly opened the door. It was very old and gave off a cracking sound. All at once, I saw a figure flash in front of us. We stepped back immediately. However, the door closed by itself. We had no way but to get inside the ghost house.

Inside the house, there was a lot of broken furniture which was dusty. When we squeezed into the kitchen, a man in a worn-out black and grey striped shirt with a fake knife zoomed in front of us. As soon as we saw him, we quickly sprinted away and escaped from the ghost house at full speed. However, the door was locked and the man ran towards us.

In no time, we saw a flash of bright light and we knew our game was finished. We thanked the staff for opening the door just in time! At last, we escaped from the ghost house. It was very frightening but it was also a lot of fun. I hope I can go there again next time.

An Unforgettable Experience

6B Au Hok Zi, Sapphine

Dear Peter,

Hello, how are you? I am happy to get your email. Today, I would like to share an unforgettable experience with you.

Last Sunday, my family and I went to Disneyland to celebrate my birthday. It was my first time to go to Disneyland. My happiness was boundless when we arrived there.

We met my favourite cartoon characters, such as Winnie the Pooh and Linabell. After that, we lined up to play games. It was hot under the scorching sun. Mom told me to endure it for a while. My favourite game is 'Space Mountain'. It was a thrilling ride. Lastly, we watched the fireworks. They looked like huge shining flowers.

It was a wonderful day. I felt tired but satisfied. I can't wait for the next time I can visit Disneyland.

I look forward to receiving your email again. Please write soon.

Yours,

Sapphine

My Dream Job

6B Chan Hei Yi, Hayley

An actress is what I want to be. I know it may sound funny. However, it just sounds right to me! An actress seems appealing to me since being on the Hollywood screen is like a dream for me.

My dream job is to become an actress. I have seen wonderful actors and actresses on the movie screen. I always think to myself, 'What if I get to be on that movie screen?' As an actress, I can show my talents and be who I want to be. Actors and actresses usually work in production studios, theatres and sometimes on location. Work assignments are usually short, ranging from one day to a few months.

In order to be an actress, I need to have a good memory and practise showing my expressions more. In order to prepare for my dream job, I will join drama classes both outside and inside of school and go to local auditions to try to get into a movie or a show. As an actress, I will listen to the opinions of the directors on how the script should be performed and improve my roles.

In conclusion, if I want to be an actress, I need to be persistent and keep working hard. Chasing my dreams might be hard but I will keep on going! I hope my dream comes true! The earlier I start, the more successful I'll be when I grow up.

My Dream Job

6B Chan Kwan Yin, Kayley

All people have their own dream. They may want to be a dentist, lawyer, model.....Do you want to know my dream job? Let me tell you.

I want to be a painter in the future because I like art and drawing very much. Drawing pictures makes me feel relaxed. Being a painter is not easy. Therefore, I need to be careful, patient and creative. I need to learn more about drawing and read more books about drawing. I also need to buy some pens and paint pigments to practise drawing now.

Painters always draw in their own ateliers. They may be famous and popular now, or just like the most famous painters, they may become famous only after their death. Their pictures will become very famous and expensive. Vincent Van Gogh's picture, The Starry Night, is very famous! Almost everyone knows this picture. I hope my picture will be as famous as The Starry Night. I will try to draw some pictures which need lots of drawing skills. My style will be like Van Gogh or Picasso.

Being a painter is not an easy task. I hope I will be a painter in the future and become as famous as Van Gogh or Picasso.

My Dream Job

6B Lau Sing Yu Sean

Everyone has a dream job. Well, mine is to be an actor. You could be asking why. It is because of the freedom and escapism each role brings to me.

If I want to be an actor, I need to be patient and confident. I also need to be good at acting. I will take acting classes and join the school drama class. I will work at a filming studio.

Actors need to be ready to face unexpected challenges, such as missed cues, technical glitches or audience disturbance. The ability to stay focused and be adaptable is really hard. Actors must memorize and rehearse their lines.

A lot of people think being an actor or actress is boring but I find it fun because I can meet new people.

True Friend

6C Chan Hei Tung, Mavis

Have you ever had a friend who has stuck by you no matter what? If you have, then that is a true friend. Today, I'm going to share my personal experience about my true friend - Jakinda.

It was a rainy Friday. Unfortunately, I was already a bit stressed from all the homework I had to do. To make things worse, I got a bad score on my Chinese test. I felt upset and bothered. I glanced at Jakinda, her brow was furrowed as she looked at me with concern. It seemed like she knew how stressed I was. After a bit, she leaned over, worry etched on her face as she whispered softly. 'Hey, are you alright? You seemed stressed. Do you need help with your homework?' I sighed, lowering my head. 'Not really. I... I got a bad score on my Chinese test. But it would be nice if you could teach me how to do the Maths homework,' I replied with a small smile on my face. She smiled back at me and her expression softened. 'Sure.'

Later after school, I got back home, sighing in exhaustion. 'Mom, I'm home.' To my shock, when I turned around my mother was sitting on the couch, as quiet as a mouse as tears ran down her face. 'Mom, is everything alright?' I asked quietly. 'Your grandpa passed away this morning from lung cancer,' she replied in a hoarse voice, barely above a whisper. My heart sank as tears fell from my eyes. I was shocked. I ran to my bedroom, sobbing. Suddenly, I heard my phone ringing. I composed myself, taking a deep breath before picking up my phone. It was Jakinda. 'Hey, I just wanted to say you left your handbook in your drawer. I took it home. I'll return it to you later.' 'Oh....Okay, thanks.' I replied bluntly, my voice raspy from crying. 'You don't sound very well. Are you okay?' 'Yeah, I'm fine. I'll see you later.'

Later, someone knocked on my door. I opened the door, my eyes red and puffy. 'Mavis, are you okay?' said Jakinda. I shook my head, crying. 'No...' After a while, she decided to stay at my place a little longer. Soon enough, her comforting words and funny jokes cheered me up.

At last, I finally felt better. I am so grateful. Ever since that day, we have become best friends. I could never ask for a better friend.

A Crime Scene

6D Chau Lok Yan, Jocasta

This afternoon, a crime happened at Ni Hao Bank between 2p.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Two men rushed in suddenly. A tall man with a ponytail pointed a gun at the bank teller. The other man was short and wearing sunglasses. He was in a checked shirt. The short man was taking the money greedily while the bank teller was shaking in fear.

Luckily, the cops arrived just in time. They hid behind the wall and waited for the right moment to take action. Finally, the cops shot the two robbers and arrested them.

A Short Movie Review on “Ratatouille”

6D Khoo Ka Shing, Matthew

First and foremost, the animation in Ratatouille is absolutely stunning. The details in the characters, the scenery and the food are all so well-crafted that it feels like you are watching a living, breathing world. The artistry on display in this film is truly remarkable.

But beyond the visuals, Ratatouille also has a heartwarming story that is perfect for all ages. The idea of a rat who loves to cook might seem strange at first, but the film makers did an amazing job of making it not only believable but also inspirational.

My Dream Job

6E Cherng Avery Summer

When I grow up, I want to be an artist. I want to be an artist because of my love for drawing and crafts. When I reach working age, I will save up to go to a good art university and learn more about art. I will also do side projects such as mini-games, art projects, portrait painting and many other things that will prepare me to get into a good art university.

If I want to get into an art university, I have to practice more and more until I get better. However, I still have to get good grades and go to a good secondary school.

I hope to get into a good art university and be an artist in the future.

The movie is very entertaining and moving. The beautiful scenes of Paris is amazing. Overall, Ratatouille encourages us to follow our dreams.
